

"THE NATURAL GAS EXPERTS"

Case Study:

Evansville Manor

Evansville Manor is always seeking ways to offer the highest quality of service while finding innovative ways to save money within their existing budget. This is why decision makers at Evansville Manor were excited to learn about how they could cut their utility bills with little to no effort and time. MEP Solutions introduced them to the wholesale natural gas market, explaining to them the financial advantages of competing out their gas on the competitive market under a balance contract. With MEP actively managing their program out of the gate, the savings were realized immediately.

“The folks at MEP are a trusted resource that have helped us lower our operating costs while maintaining high standards of business transparency with our group. I would recommend them to others.
